The winners were determined by a two-step voting – online voting at the Awards website www.wingsaward.ru/en and personal voting by RUBAA Board and members. In total, over 60 companies from nine countries applied for the Russia's prestigious Award.

Mikhail Titov, RUBAA vice-president and the mastermind of the 'Wings of Business' Award said: "The idea of the 'Wings of Business' Award has a reason behind it. Russian business aviation industry is relevantly young, it has 25 years, but within this period we have done a solid way. Now it's the time to chronicle our success and be proud of the achievements. We have put a lot of effort to make the Award happen and I was very glad to see what a rush it created in the industry. I hope that next year we will see more participants in all nominations, both Russian and foreign".

The masters of the awarding ceremony were Russia's crowd-pullers Oxana Fedorova and Dmitry Kharatyan who demonstrated an excellent knowledge of the business aviation market. The official awarding ceremony came with a fantastic show: a faery laser show, fireworks, sand drawing under the touching words of a little girl who loves airplanes. The final of the evening was highlighted by a concert of Valery Syutkin, the major aviator of the Russian stage.

The founder of the Wings of Business Award is the Russian United Business Aviation Association (RUBAA). The general sponsor of the Awards is Rietumu Banka. The official sponsor is Satcom Direct. The producer of the Awarding ceremony is Bizav Systems Ltd. headed by Mikhail Titov.
