Jet Aviation Basel recently delivered a brand new ACJ A340-600 that it outfitted with a VIP cabin interior for an undisclosed client in Europe. This is the 18th Airbus delivery from the Basel Completions Center since 1999.

Equipped to carry up to 121 passengers in comfort and style, the ACJ A340-600 features a forward galley, dining and lounge areas, a master bedroom and ensuite bathroom with shower, a second bedroom with its own bathroom, an office, first class seating and dining areas, a mid-galley complex, a staff seating area and an aft galley. A comprehensive humidification system has been integrated to heighten comfort during long haul flights. In addition, the aircraft interior includes an extensive in-flight entertainment system, including satellite TV, and a wireless local area network linked to primary and alternate satellite communication systems with high speed data.

Completions Project Manager at Jet Aviation Basel Joshua Florio said, “The timeframe in which we completed the stunning cabin interior of this A340-600 is remarkable. This completions project is testament to our robust processes and continuous improvement efforts over the last few years.”
