

SIMPLIFYING EXCHANGE OF PASSENGER AND CREW INFORMATION - STRATEGIC ALLIANCE OF JETEX & PNRGO

News / Business aviation

Jetex entered in a strategic partnership with PnrGo designed to simplify the exchange of passenger and crew information, including the provision of automated passenger name record and advance passenger information. The new service, tailored for Jetex customers, offers operators a seamless path to comply effortlessly with global regulatory requirements concerning passenger and crew data transfer and travel permissions, ensuring stress-free operations in North America, Europe and the Middle East, offering an additional layer of confidence while avoiding potential penalties.

Jetex designed the solution in partnership with PnrGo, a digital pioneer with expertise in 58 countries that continues to expand, offering seamless access to more markets.

Adel Mardini, Founder & CEO of Jetex, commented: “Our partnership with PnrGo marks a significant milestone in enhancing the value we offer to our clients. With this collaboration, we streamline processes while reinforcing our commitment to delivering excellence in trip support services, ensuring compliance and convenience for aviation companies worldwide”

Aleksander Goszczycki, Co-Founder and Managing Director at PnrGo, said: “We are very happy to form a partnership with Jetex and reach their audience with our innovative automated solutions. Entering the field of integrated trip support marks a new chapter for PnrGo. This will strengthen our position as the worldwide leader in API/PNR data compliance”.

A recognized leader in innovation and digitalization, Jetex is committed to building upon its in-house expertise while working with key IT partners to deliver unparalleled convenience and automation to its global clients.
