UBER AND VICTOR TEAM UP FOR NEW YORK VALENTIES PRIZE

News / Business aviation

Uber and Victor ave teamed up to offer three couples an all expenses trip to New York over the Valenties weekend.

The trip includes flight on a chartered private jet, one nights stay in the Gansevoort Meatpacking NYC Hotel, A $2500 shopping spree at Saks Fifth Avenue, and A 5-course Valentine's Day Dinner.

The prize is unfortunately only available to Uber users in 52 US East Coast cities. To enter, Uber users need to take a trip between 08:00 and 20:00 today, and enter a special code.

"We're thrilled Uber has invited us to help gift-wrap this ultimate Valentine's Day prize" says Dan Northover, chief marketing officer, Victor. "The seamless, on-demand connection between Uber ride and Victor flight will ensure winners are whisked away to their romantic weekends in a quick, convenient, stress-free style like never before. It promises to be an amazing experience."
