BOMBARDIER DEFENSE DELIVERS GLOBAL 6000 AIRCRAFT TO SAAB'S GLOBALEYE PROGRAM DESTINED TO JOIN THE SWEDISH AIR FORCE

News / Manufacturer

Bombardier Defense celebrated the sixth delivery of a Global 6000 aircraft to Swedish defense supplier Saab, ready to be transformed by Saab into their Airborne Early Warning and Control solution known as GlobalEye. This aircraft will join the Swedish Air Force once Saab completes the transformation, further highlighting the illustrious capabilities of both companies in providing forward-looking solutions for nations across the globe. This latest addition to the Swedish Air Force fleet is yet another example of Bombardier's long-standing experience in adapting its platforms to specific characteristics of a variety of military services' individually unique requirements.

Jean-Christopher Gallagher, Executive Vice-President, Aircraft Sales and Bombardier Defense, commented: "Our jets are internationally recognized as modern, go-to platforms by some of the world's largest defense contractors, such as Saab.The Global aircraft family represents the right-
